

Strathalbyn Residential Golf Course Estate

Jensen Planning + Design has been involved with a residential / golf course estate at Strathalbyn over the past decade, including initial concept design through to rezoning and subsequent implementation.

Although the golf course was eventually replaced with a linear park, the project has been implemented and has been most successful.

Our current involvement relates to provision of full planning and design services for a parcel of land incorporating approximately 170 homes adjacent to the linear park along the Angas River.
